

SIMMONS MAY GET COVETED POSITION

He Is Likely to Land Chairmanship of Powerful Finance Committee.

FIGHT WILL BE AVOIDED

Remainder of Committee Will Be Made Up of Progressive Senators.

Washington, March 10.—After a brief executive session, in which the nomination of John P. Marble, a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission, was confirmed and the nominations made to-day by President Wilson were referred to committees, the Senate adjourned until Tuesday at 2 P. M.

Organization work to-day held the attention of Democratic and Republican members.

The Democratic steering committee granted the request of the Republican caucus for such an increase of membership of the important committees as will avoid the necessity of removing any of the Republicans. Finance, Foreign Relations and Judiciary were enlarged from fifteen to seventeen members, and the Committee on Rules from eight to ten members. These changes will also give the Democrats increased representation.

The Democratic steering committee also decided to create a new Committee on Banking and Currency of twelve members, to take over part of the work of the Finance Committee. The general understanding is that Senator Stone, of Missouri, will be chairman.

Republican Caucus.
Republican Senators in caucus decided to cast their complimentary vote for the officers who have conducted Senate affairs under Republican control. They will support Senator Gallinger for president pro tem. The only elective office which will be given to the Republicans probably will be the acting assistant doorkeeper. Carl Loeffler was selected by the caucus for that position, which is in the nature of a confidential clerkship to the majority membership.

The assignment of committee chairmanships and places on the committees was begun to-day by the Democratic steering committee, of which Senator Kern, of Indiana, is chairman. The nine members of the committee on committees assembled about 9 o'clock this morning in the Democratic caucus room in the Senate Office Building, and were in session all the morning.

The same fight which has been made by the progressives among the Senate Democrats against the so-called confederate, which resulted in the election of Senator Kern of Indiana, as chairman of the Democratic caucus, over Senator Martin, of Virginia, and of Senator Clarke, of Arkansas, as president, is now being fought over Senator Bacon, of Georgia, as again in evidence at the meeting of the steering committee to-day. The seniority rule in the assignment of important committee appointments is to be followed, it is understood, but with certain modifications.

Rule for Older Senators.
The older Senators, it is said, have been made to feel that if they are given the important chairmanships to which their long service entitles them, they are not to have places on the important committees. This plan has been made to prevent the centralization of power in the hands of a few of the older Senators, which has existed in the past.

Senator Martin, of Virginia, is the only one of the older Senators on the steering committee, the other members being Senator Kern, of Indiana, chairman; Clarke, of Arkansas; Chamberlain, of Oregon; Owen, of Oklahoma; O'Gorman, of New York; Hoke Smith, of Georgia; Lea, of Tennessee; and Thomas, of Colorado.

One of the big fights is over the chairmanship of the powerful Finance Committee, which is to be made up of bills at the extra session of Congress, soon to convene. Senator Simmons, of North Carolina, is entitled to this chairmanship by right of seniority. He has been considered a reactionary among the Democrats, however, and the progressives would like very much to give the chairmanship to one of their number.

However, it is probable that the majority in the Senate so narrow that they must have all their men in line, the Democrats do not wish to force the older members of the Senate into an open fight. It seems likely that Mr. Simmons will be given this chairmanship, and that the progressives will see to it that the rest of the committee is largely progressive. Should Mr. Simmons not be made chairman, Senators Stone, Williams and Kern are in line. However, Senator Stone is liable to head the Committee on Banking and Currency, which the committee to-day decided to create.

Place for Tillman.
Senator Tillman, of South Carolina, seems sure to succeed to the chairmanship of the Committee on Appropriations, although some of his colleagues are trying to persuade him to accept the chairmanship of the Naval Affairs Committee instead. It is expected, however, that, as in the case of the Finance Committee, the remainder of the places on this committee will be so distributed as to leave the control in the hands of the forces led by Senator Kern.

MANY WITNESSES STILL TO BE HEARD

Women Continue Recital of Police Mismanagement During Suffrage Parade.

Washington, March 10.—With a long list of witnesses still to be called, the Senate subcommittee to-day resumed its investigation of the disorder that attended the parade of women suffragists here last Monday. The large committee room was again crowded to the doors with spectators, principally women.

Senator Overman, of North Carolina, probably will be chairman of the Rules Committee. In the event of Senator Tillman becoming chairman of the Appropriations Committee, Senator Smith, of Maryland, will succeed to the chairmanship of the Naval Affairs Committee. Both Senator Martin, of Virginia, and Senator Overman, of North Carolina, would like to be chairman of the Appropriations Committee. Senator Martin, however, probably will head the Commerce Committee.

The Judiciary Committee, it is expected, will be headed by Senator Culberson, of Texas. Senator Joseph E. Johnston, of Alabama, is in line for the chairmanship of the Military Affairs Committee. Senator Clarke, of Arkansas, is next to him on the list for this committee, but he has been chosen president pro tempore of the Senate, and as the reason given for not choosing Senator Bacon president pro tempore was that he is to become chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, it is likely that Clarke will not be considered for one of the most important committees.

Senator Swanson, of Virginia, it is expected, will head the Committee on Public Buildings and Grounds. Senator Gore, of Oklahoma, seems likely to succeed to the chairmanship of the Immigration Committee, and Senator Bankhead, of Alabama, to the chairmanship of the Committee on Agriculture and Forestry.

Stone's Probable Place.
Senator Stone, of Missouri, can have the chairmanship of the Committee on Indian Affairs, in case he does not head the Banking and Currency Committee. Should Mr. Stone become head of the committee, Indian Affairs will probably go to Senator Owen, of Oklahoma.

The District Committee probably will be headed by Senator Pomerene, of Ohio. Senators Martin, Johnston, of Alabama, and Smith, of Maryland, who are ahead of Senator Pomerene on the list of Democrats serving on the District Committee, will all head other committees. It is expected that Senator Pomerene has considerable interest in District affairs during his service here.

FIRST SESSION IS HELD BY BOARD

Work of Trying to Settle Railroad Controversy Is Begun.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
New York, March 10.—The board of arbitration, selected under the Erdman act, to settle the wage differences between the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen and the managers of the fifty-four railroads east of the Mississippi and north of the Ohio, held its first session to-day in the Waldorf-Astoria.

The board consists of Judge William L. Chambers, of Washington, who was a member of the Spanish Treaty Claims Commission; W. P. Atterbury, of Philadelphia, first vice-president of the Pennsylvania Railroad; and Albert Phillips, of San Francisco, third vice-president of the Brotherhood. By law, all the evidence must be before this board and their award must be completed by April 2.

Samuel T. Steinberger, a clerk in the brotherhood's central office at Peoria, Ill., was the first witness to-day. He presented the existing schedules of pay received by firemen on the roads involved in the controversy, and compared them with the demanded rates. Two sessions of the board will be held daily. Judge Chambers, who has been elected chairman, said these meetings would continue until the award was reached.

SYMPTOMS OF CATARRH

Given by Doctor Who Has Treated Thousands of Cases.

A physician who has made a life work of treating catarrhal troubles, gives the following list of symptoms which indicate when catarrhal germs are present in the mucous membrane of the nose, throat, bronchial tubes or tissues of the lungs:

Offensive breath.
Frequent sneezing.
Pain in the nose.
Pain across the eyes.
Pain in back of the head.
Pain in front of the head.
Discharge from the nose.
Stoppage of the nose at night.
Hoarseness of voice.
Itching of the body.
Tendency to take cold.
Tickling in the throat.
Droppings in the throat.
Burnings in the throat.
Mouth open while sleeping.
Hawking to clear the throat.
Tickling back of the palate.
Formation of crusts in the nose.
Dryness of the throat in the morning.
A cough.

Pain in chest.
Stitch in side.
Losing in flesh.
Loss of strength.
Variable appetite.
Spasms of coughing.
Low spirited at times.
Cough short and hacking.
Raising of frothy mucus.
Expectorating yellow matter.
Cough worse at night and mornings.
Difficulty in breathing.
Loss in vital force.

Until the activity of the catarrhal germs is destroyed by using HYOMEI, the symptoms cannot permanently disappear and you cannot expect to be relieved of catarrh. If you have any of the above symptoms, begin the use of HYOMEI at once. It is nature's treatment for catarrh that is sold under an absolute guarantee to refund the money unless benefited.

TRIAL OF HAZERS SET FOR THURSDAY

Four Carolina Sophomores Under Indictment on Charge of Manslaughter.

CAUSED FRESHMAN'S DEATH

Case Will Be Called in Superior Court of Orange County.

BY S. R. WINTERS.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Hillsboro, N. C., March 10.—According to the ruling of Judge R. B. Peebles, who is presiding over the Orange County Superior Court, which convened at Hillsboro this morning, the four sophomores of the University of North Carolina, under indictment for manslaughter, for causing the death of Isaac William Rand, of Smithfield, in the early morning hours of September 13, 1912, in a hazing episode, will be called for trial at 9:30 o'clock Thursday morning. The four sophomores are as follows: Ralph Waldo Oldham, of Raleigh; Aubrey Carlisle Hatch, of Mount Olive; and Arthur H. Styron and William L. Merriman, of Wilmington.

This order was given by Judge Peebles last week to the clerk of the court, for entry upon the docket, after he mentioned a message which he had received from Attorney Victor S. Bryant, asking for continuance of the trial because of the attention in Raleigh upon the closing days of the Legislature. Instantly Judge J. S. Manning, of Durham, counsel for one of the defendants, was on his feet asking a continuance of the case. He wished to defer the calling of the trial beyond Thursday morning, since, he said, that even if the Legislature adjourns on Wednesday, the court would be in session, and the Legislature could be sitting of the members of the body through the night of the day before reaching adjournment. The judge said in answer to this request advanced by Manning that it was not so unlikely to him, and he made it unmistakably clear that no trifling of an excuse would lead him to order a continuance of the case.

Judge Peebles' decisive opposition to continuance cut short further parleying by attorneys for the defense, although several were present.

This being the equal March term of Orange County, the session began at 10 o'clock this morning. Judge Peebles' charge to the jury was one of simplicity, concrete examples of violation of the law in each of the larger classes of crime being advanced. The concluding remarks of his charge to the jury were thrusts at the institution of hazing, and he clearly showed that he placed all forms of hazing in a class of crimes which the law of the land must deal with. He emphasized the point that if any set of students, a freshman and force him to do things which he does not wish to do, that is an assault by the court. They have no right to make the freshman sing or dance, or do anything else that he does not want to do, said Judge Peebles. A violation of this right belonging to the individual makes each member of the party of hazers guilty of assault.

Personal interest attaching to the trial, and the amount of other business to be disposed of at this term of court, brought many visiting members of the legal fraternity here to-day. Among them were Judge J. S. Manning, R. H. Sykes and W. H. E. Woltz, of Gastonia; E. S. Parker, of Graham; W. P. Stacey, Louis Goodman and Louis Pison, of Wilmington; L. T. McLendon and Attorney Knoke, of Chapel Hill, are all interested in the present term of Orange County.

Strong Array of Counsel.
To represent the four young men charged with manslaughter, a brilliant array of lawyers has been employed, each of the defendants retaining separate counsel. Young Merriman will be represented by Louis Goodman, Louis Pison, of Wilmington, and Stern & Duncan, of Greensboro; Oldham will be represented by Victor S. Bryant and A. L. Wissburg, of Durham; Styron will be represented by W. P. Stacey, of Wilmington, and ex-Judge J. S. Manning, of Durham; Hatch will be represented by Bryant & Wissburg, of Durham. The prosecuting attorney, Solicitor S. M. Gattie, will be aided in his fight for the State by the firm of Justice & Broadhurst, of Greensboro, and J. A. Wellons, of Smithfield.

A recital of the circumstances leading up to the tragic death of Isaac Rand and the subsequent events is the story of the most humiliating occurrence in the more than 100 years of history of the University of North Carolina. It recounts the facts of how, on the opening night of the college year, Freshman Rand and his roommate, Robert Wellons, were taken from their room about 1:30 o'clock in the morning and carried to the athletic field to perform ludicrous stunts for the amusement of the upper classmen. Young Wellons was first made to sing and dance on a barrel within the athletic field inclosure, and fell from the barrel, sustaining a slight cut on his leg. The young sophomores, not profiting by the suggestion of the accident, ordered Rand to occupy the improvised stage and sing and dance for them. A performance of a few minutes' duration wrought an end to his performances for the amusement of the upper classmen, when he fell from the barrel on which he was dancing and in a moment was seen to be mortally wounded. In his fall, his neck had struck the ragged edges of a broken-necked bottle by the side of the barrel on which he was dancing. When he was picked up, a gash four inches long and two inches deep was observed, with the blood pouring from the wound. Though some of the sophomores were terrified, and fled, some remained with Wellons and aided in giving the alarm. The bleeding body, in the arms of his roommate and a member of the hazing party, was carried a distance of 100 yards, and the college physician was hastened after, but the young man had gasped his last before the physician arrived. He died within less time than ten minutes after the fatal fall from the barrel. The gash in his neck had severed the carotid artery, and both the exterior and interior veins.

Quick detection of the four sophomores constituting the party of hazers was made possible by the bloodstains on the clothes of members of the party, and their lack of effort to shift the responsibility to others. Consequently, their arrest was effected early on the morning of the occurrence of the terrible episode. Immediate impelling of a coroner's jury and the ordering of a hearing the afternoon of the same day of the death of Rand, with Solicitor S. M. Gattie, for the State, conducting the hearing, the bond of the four sophomores was fixed at $5,000 each for their appearance at the October term of Orange County Superior Court. The illness of

STAYING QUALITY, BIGGEST ASSET IN $20,000 CONTEST

Race Will Not Be Won by the One Who Spurts, But by the Candidate Who Works Persistently

If your name was not printed Sunday in the list of candidates in The Times-Dispatch $20,000 Subscription Contest, see that it comes to the contest department in time to appear Thursday, when the list will again be published.

During the days of the highest rate of votes the time is best for entering the contest. Up to March 22 you gain the most possible for your efforts. After that the reward will not be quite so high in proportion to the work. Now, while each new yearly subscriber counts for the greatest number of votes, get in and secure all the subscriptions you can.

An automobile is certainly an ideal prize. Every one longs to own a car. "I'd lots rather," said a bright candidate, "belong to the mobility than to the nobility."

SEND YOUR PHOTOGRAPH.

In a few days The Times-Dispatch will begin to publish the pictures of active candidates. You will thus management a favor by sending or bringing in your photograph for this purpose.

DON'T HESITATE ABOUT ENTERING.

Are you one of those people who hate to get up in the morning. You yawn and stretch and wish it would never be day. But as soon as you have tried the cold water treatment you feel wide-awake and energetic, and you are glad to be "up for all day."

That's just the way with entering the contest. You hesitate and postpone from day to day, but once you have made the plunge, by sending in a nomination blank, you get caught by the spirit of the thing. The fine, enthusiastic, ambitious spirit and—you wouldn't be out of it.

You feel that it is more fun than anything you have done in a long time. Every hour you will be glad and glad that you are really in it—in the grip of the big game, and you can't let go.

YOUR CHANCES ARE EQUAL.

Remember that no one has a better chance for a prize than yourself. There are seventy-five valuable prizes to be won. Will there be seventy-five candidates trying for them who are smarter than yourself? Of course not. Will there be seventy-five candidates who try for them any harder than you do? If so, that's your fault.

Call the attention of those whom you ask for a subscription to the reduced rates during the contest and the value of The Times-Dispatch to them and to the value of the votes to you.

NO ROYAL ROAD TO SUCCESS.

Bear in mind that you are entered in a fast bunch of hustlers, and that no one of them can succeed without doing just what you have to do in order to get ahead. There are a good many with their eyes set on the Kline Touring Car. They are determined that no one shall win it from them without a scuffle.

All are watching the rest with eager eyes, summing up the capacity of the rivals to set a swift pace in a long race. Just as a line of small boys glance appraisingly at each other as they toe the line waiting for the umpire to count his "1-2-3-4-GO!"

But when once that "GO!" has sounded there is no more glancing from side to side. Each one springs forward in a tearing race.

LATE ENTRIES OFTEN WINNERS.

The cry of "too late" is generally a poor excuse for lack of energy. Why bring forward such a threadbare excuse when it would be so much more to your advantage to say, "Now is the right time for me to enter The Times-Dispatch contest, so I'm going to do it."

Do not make the mistake of considering all those whose names you see on the printed list as serious rivals. Every day contestants drop from the ranks. They were dazzled by the brilliancy of the prize list, and did not stop to think that such valuable gifts would be certain to attract many who are willing to do much more than merely send their nomination to the contest department and clip a few coupons.

When they found that others were in earnest, they had not the ambition necessary to make a record.

When you are trying to win the $2,085 Kline Touring Car you are interested. So is the man or woman who hopes to get just a few more subscriptions than yourself.

Don't let them do it. Beat them to it. Get as many as you can as soon as you can. If you are conscientious in this determination your chances of coming out at the very top are first rate.

If you meet with a refusal, go quickly and wipe out the remembrance with a fine subscription.

Remember that a little steady work every day counts for more in the end than irregular spurts. If you get into the habit of saying, "I think I'll take a day off to-day and make to-morrow my work day," it will end in the work days never coming.

Join the vote-getters to-day and the prize-winners April 12.
